

Boyle | Shaughnessy Law Announces New Shareholders

RELATED ATTORNEYS

Laura D. Devine
Brian P. Doherty
Jonathan P. Killeen

January 7, 2019

Boyle | Shaughnessy Law is pleased to announce Thomas H. Houlihan, Jr., Laura D. Devine, Brian D. Doherty, Thomas G. Hodgkins, and Jonathan P. Killeen have become shareholders of the firm.

Thomas H. Houlihan, Jr. works in the firm's Hartford, CT office. His practice concentrates in the areas of motor vehicle, commercial transportation litigation, premises liability, products liability, and catastrophic injury.

Laura D. Devine is based in the Manchester office of Boyle | Shaughnessy Law. Her state and federal practice concentrates in commercial litigation, which includes transportation, construction, premises liability, blasting, bad faith litigation, professional malpractice, and appeals.

Brian P. Doherty works in the Worcester office of Boyle | Shaughnessy Law with a state and federal practice focused on commercial and business litigation, Chapter 93A claims, and liability defense.

Thomas G. Hodgkins practices in the Boston office of Boyle | Shaughnessy Law. His practice concentrates on civil litigation, construction law, and liability defense.

Jonathan P. Killeen's Manchester based practice is concentrated on personal injury litigation that includes motor vehicle accidents, commercial transportation accidents, dram shop, wrongful death, catastrophic injury, premises liability, and products liability. Jonathan also is experienced in matters involving defamation, contract disputes, and professional liability.