Overview

The defense of serious product liability claims is a longstanding and significant part of Boyle | Shaughnessy Law's litigation practice. Our Attorneys regularly defend manufacturers, wholesalers, distributors, suppliers and retailers of a wide range of products including consumer, industrial and pharmaceutical products.

We have extensive experience and relationships with trial-tested consultants and expert witnesses. This enables our Attorneys to provide immediate guidance to effectively contain and resolve potentially catastrophic losses arising out of product liability claims.

Our Attorneys have successfully litigated complex product liability lawsuits alleging design and manufacturing defects and failure to warn. We have also built a solid reputation for successfully excluding expert testimony at trial under Daubert.

Boyle | Shaughnessy Law Attorneys are active in numerous specialized product liability professional groups such as the Defense Research Institute, American Trucking Association, and state and local bar associations. In addition, our Attorneys have written articles and given lectures on numerous product liability defense and litigation related topics.
